

Table of Contents: Volume 1

1. Introduction

- The Origins of Celan
- Purpose of the Guide (as pertains to fundamentals)

2. Phonetics and Pronunciation

- Vowels
- Consonants
- Pronunciation Rules

3. Basic Sentence Structure

- Verb-Subject-Object (VSO)
- Forming Questions (Ra)

4. Pronouns and Person Markers

- Personal Pronouns (Singular & Plural)
- Possessive Forms (Basic Rule: Pronoun before Noun, optional -ka)

5. Gendered and Neutral Terms

- Core Terms and Their Roots (Kadren, Azan, Thee)
- Basic Vocabulary (Kadron, Azron, Theon, etc.)
- Rules for Usage (Relational Focus, Contextual Flexibility)
- Advanced Applications (Gender-Neutral Address, Combining Qualities)

6. Core Grammar

- Tenses and Aspects (Prefixes/Suffixes: Tha-, Nor-, -al, -ath, -as)
- Negation (Ver - Verb and Noun Negation)
- Questions and Imperatives (Review Ra, Introduce Va)
- Conditionals (Rath - Conditional, Hypothetical Future, Contrary-to-Fact)
- Prepositions and Case Markers (Basic Prepositions: Var, Ser, Thal, Ka, An, Nor, Esh, Morl; Dedicated Spatial An; Role of -ka)

Introduction

The Origins of Celan

Celan is the universal language of Ohnsha, emerging from the convergence of the world's timelines in the aftermath of Day One—a pivotal event where time and space collided. Established as a common tongue to foster unity and facilitate communication among all nations, Celan embodies both practical functionality and deep-rooted mystical connections to Ohnsha's natural forces. Scholars recognize Celan not only as a means of everyday communication but also as a language imbued with ancient power, essential for understanding the world's history and mystical balance.

Purpose of the Guide

This guide aims to provide learners with a foundational understanding of Celan. It covers the language's phonetics, grammar, vocabulary, and usage across various contexts. Whether you are engaging in casual conversation, formal discourse, or scholarly study, this guide will equip you with the necessary tools to master Celan.

Phonetics and Pronunciation

Vowels

Celan features long, flowing vowels that symbolize natural forces like water, air, and light. The vowels are pronounced clearly and smoothly to maintain the language's fluidity.

- A: Pronounced as in "father" – a smooth loop or crescent shape in writing.
- E: Pronounced as in "bed" – a wavy line resembling flowing water.
- I: Pronounced as in "machine" – a straight vertical line symbolizing clarity.
- O: Pronounced as in "go" – rounded and open.
- U: Pronounced as in "flu" – deep and resonant.

Consonants

Celan's consonants are sharp and defined, providing structure and grounding to the language.

- K, T, S, R: Frequently used, these consonants add clarity and strength.
- Other consonants follow straightforward pronunciation rules, ensuring accessibility for all speakers.

Pronunciation Rules

- Emphasis is placed on clarity and flow.
 - Each syllable is pronounced distinctly to maintain the language's rhythmic quality.
 - No complex tonal variations; pronunciation remains consistent across different contexts.
-

Basic Sentence Structure

Verb-Subject-Object (VSO)

Celan primarily follows a Verb-Subject-Object (VSO) sentence structure, facilitating clear and direct communication.

Example:

- Celan: Var I dren.
- Translation: "I go to the water."
- Analysis:
 - Var (go) – Verb
 - I (I) – Subject
 - dren (water) – Object

Forming Questions

To form questions, place Ra at the beginning of the sentence.

Example:

- Celan: Ra var ser?
 - Translation: "Where does the friend go?"
-

Pronouns and Person Markers

Personal Pronouns

Celan distinguishes between first, second, and third persons, with singular and plural forms.

Person/Number	Pronoun	Notes
1st Person Singular	I	Remains simple and universal.

1st Person Plural	Ilin	Represents "we" as a group bound by common purpose.
2nd Person Singular	Ya	A straightforward pronoun for "you."
2nd Person Plural	Yalin	"You all." Signifies a collective of individuals addressed.
3rd Person Singular	La	Neutral pronoun meaning "he/she/they."
3rd Person Plural	Lalin	Means "they" (a group not including speaker or addressee).

Possessive Forms

Possession is indicated by placing the pronoun before the possessed noun, optionally using the -ka linking particle.

Examples:

- I ka dren – "My water"
- Ya tera – "Your home" (singular)
- Ilin-ka emil – "Our meal"

Gendered and Neutral Terms

Introduction

Celan is a relational and poetic language that values fluidity, identity, and connection. This manual introduces terms for masculine, feminine, and neutral identities and their applications. These terms expand Celan's expressive capacity while maintaining its ethos of relational meaning.

Core Terms and Their Roots

Celan uses root words to define identities and qualities. These roots evolve into terms for specific roles or relationships.

1. Kadren: Masculine essence (strength, groundedness).
 - Derived words: Kadron (man), Kadfel (boy), Kadon (masculine woman).
2. Azan: Feminine essence (nurturing, fluidity).
 - Derived words: Azron (woman), Azfel (girl), Azon (feminine man).
3. Thee: Neutral essence (balance, unity).

- Derived words: Theon (neutral person), Theefel (neutral child).

Basic Vocabulary

Celan Word	Meaning	Usage
Kadron	Man (masculine person)	Default term for men.
Azron	Woman (feminine person)	Default term for women.
Theon	Neutral person (non-binary)	Represents balance or gender neutrality.
Kadfel	Boy (young masculine person)	Refers to a male child.
Azfel	Girl (young feminine person)	Refers to a female child.
Theefel	Neutral child (non-binary child)	Refers to a child of neutral identity.
Azon	Feminine man	Describes a man with feminine qualities.
Kadon	Masculine woman	Describes a woman with masculine traits.

Rules for Usage

1. Relational and Poetic Focus

Celan terms prioritize relationships and qualities over rigid definitions. For example:

- Kal ohm Kadron ian: My strong friend who is a man.
- Azron nor shal: The woman flows with the light.
- Theon dren kal thal: The neutral person brings strength and balance.

2. Contextual Flexibility

These terms can describe identities in various ways:

- Default Use: Standalone nouns (e.g., Kadron, Azron, Theon).
- Descriptive Use: Combine with other terms for clarity or depth.
 - Kadfel ohmbaen: Beloved boy.
 - Azon nor velkrel: A feminine man near the breeze.

3. Cultural Variations

Each Ohnoshan culture may adapt these terms to fit their values:

- Pelagae: Emphasizes fluidity and uses Azon frequently for spiritual men.
 - Nivveil: Highlights balance, favoring Thee-based descriptors.
 - Valkeldor: Values strength and may use Kadon to honor warrior women.
-

Advanced Applications

1. Gender-Neutral Address

Use Thee terms for inclusivity in formal or neutral contexts:

- Theon ian kal nor dren: My neutral companion flows with the water.
- Theefel pralmor an shal: The neutral child creates with the light.

2. Combining Qualities

Layer terms to reflect specific traits:

- Kadron-Azon: A man with both masculine and feminine qualities.
- Azron-Theon: A woman embodying neutrality and balance.

3. Poetic Expressions

Celan thrives on poeticism:

- Azfel kal dren morl: The girl brings strength to the flowing mountain.
- Kadron var thal nor: The man stands in balance with time.

Grammar

Tenses and Aspects

Celan verbs do not conjugate based on tense. Instead, tenses are indicated by prefixes and suffixes.

Tense/Aspect	Marker	Example	Translation
Present Tense	Default VSO	Var I dren.	"I go to the water."
Past Tense	Tha- (prefix)	Tha-var I dren.	"I went to the water."
Future Tense	Nor- (prefix)	Nor-var I dren.	"I will go to the water."
Continuous	-al (suffix)	Varal I dren.	"I am going to the water."
Perfective	-ath (suffix)	Varath I dren.	"I have gone to the water."
Habitual	-as (suffix)	Varas I dren.	"I usually go to the water."

Negation

Negation is formed by placing Ver before the verb or noun.

- Verb Negation: Ver before the verb negates it.
 - Example: Ver var I dren. – "I do not go to the water."
- Noun Negation: Ver before a noun negates its existence.
 - Example: Ver shal I dren. – "There is no light at the water."

Questions and Imperatives

- Questions: Start with Ra.
 - Example: Ra var ser? – "Where does the friend go?"
- Negative Questions: Insert Ver before the verb.
 - Example: Ra ver var ser? – "Does the friend not go?"
- Imperatives (Commands): Start with Va.
 - Example: Va var dren! – "Go to the water!"

Conditionals

- Conditional "If": Use Rath to introduce conditions.

- Example: Rath var ser, I dren. – “If the friend goes, I will go to the water.”
- Hypothetical Future: Combine Rath with future tense.
 - Example: Rath Nor-var ser, Nor-var I dren. – “If the friend will go, I will go to the water.”
- Contrary-to-Fact: Use past tense markers.
 - Example: Rath Tha-var ser, Tha-var I dren. – “If the friend had gone, I would have gone to the water.”

Prepositions and Case Markers

Basic Prepositions

Preposition	Meaning	Example
Var	To, towards	Var dren (to the water)
Ser	With	Var I ser ser (with a friend)
Thal	From, out of	Tha-var La thal Terra.
Ka	Without	Var I ka shal.
An	At, in (place)	Varan I an Varthas.
Nor	At/in (time)	Nor-var I nor Varthas.
Esh	Above, over	Var I esh dren.
Morl	Under, beneath	Var I morl dren.

Dedicated Spatial Preposition

To avoid confusion with temporal usage, An is introduced for spatial contexts (“at/in” location).

Example Sentences with Prepositions

- Var I var dren.
 - “I go to the water.”
- Nor-var I an Tera.
 - “I will go at the home.”
- Tha-var La thal Shalorin.
 - “They went from the sanctuary of light.”
- Var I ser Yalin.
 - “I go with you all.”

- Ka var I emil?
 - “Do I go without food?”
- Var I esh dren.
 - “I go above the water.”
- Var I morl dren.
 - “I go under the water.”

Case Markers

Celan relies on word order and prepositions for clarity, minimizing the need for extensive case markers. The -ka particle can act as a possessive/linking marker.