Politeness and Honorifics

Levels of Politeness

1. Casual/Familiar:
 - Use plain pronouns and address by name or role without modifiers.
 - Example:
 - “Var I dren, Ser.” – “I go to the water, friend.”
2. Respectful/Polite:
 - Add Li- prefix to show respect.
 - Examples:
 - “Var I dren, Li-Ser.” – “I go to the water, respected friend.”
 - “Li-Ya var dren.” – “You (respected one) go to the water.”
3. Honorific/Formal-High Respect:
 - Use both Li- and -en suffix.
 - Examples:
 - “Liorin(en)” – “Honored elder/teacher”
 - “Li-Liorinen” – “Respected honored elder/teacher”

Titles and Roles

- Liana : Lady
- Lianor: Sir
- Liorin: Teacher/Elder
 - Liorinen: Honored Elder/Teacher
- Lorin: Guide
 - Lorinen: Honored Guide
- Seren: Guardian/Protector
 - Li-Seren: Respected Guardian

Addressing Strangers and Officials

- Example:
 - “Li-Ya, nor aen lian?” – “Respected you, may we now speak truth?”
 - “Li-Seren-en, var nor Varthas shenakar?” – “Honored guardian, do we proceed to the city’s exchange now?”

Negative and Imperative Forms

- Casual Command:
 - “Va var dren!” – “Go to the water!”
- Respectful Suggestion:
 - “Li-Ya, va var dren.” – “Respected one, please go to the water.”
- Polite Refusal:

- “Ver var I dren, Li-Ser.” – “I cannot go to the water, respected friend.”

Cultural Notes

- Li- is used for politeness with strangers, elders, and officials.
- Overusing Li- may seem insincere; balance is key.
- Honorifics like -en are reserved for highly respected individuals in formal settings.

Register Markers

- Formal Vocabulary (Examples):
 - Aen (To speak/tell - poetic/deep).
 - Var (To go/move - purposeful).

Language Use Across the Nations of Ohnoshia

Overview

Celan is the dominant language across Ohnoshia, serving as the universal tongue for communication, trade, and diplomacy. However, regional languages like Arvan and Terran persist in more remote or culturally distinct areas, reflecting the unique landscapes and traditions of their speakers.

Language Familiarity by Nation

Nation	Primary Language	Familiarity with Arvan	Familiarity with Trerran	Notes
Verdalris	Celan	Low to Moderate	Low	Celan used with nature and balance metaphors.
Mechuma	Celan	Low	Moderate	Appreciates Trerran's efficiency for trade and engineering.
Pelagae	Celan	Moderate	Low	Celan is fluid and poetic, reflecting oceanic life.
Nivveil	Arvan	High	Very Low	Arvan is native, used daily and in rituals; Celan also spoken.
Valkeldor	Arvan & Celan	High	Low	Arvan for rituals and warrior oaths; Celan for practical use.
Zarithan	Trerran	Low	High	Trerran is native, used for all life aspects; Celan for trade.
Jasara	Celan & Trerran	Low	High	Trerran used daily; Celan for broader communication.
Marakor	Celan	Moderate	Low	Celan is dominant; some northern Arvan influence.

Comparison Between Celan, Arvan, and Trerran

Feature	Celan	Arvan	Trerran
Primary Regions	Universal across Ohnoshia	Northern mountainous regions (Nivveil, Valkeldor)	Southern desert regions (Zarithan, Jasara)
Phonetic Style	Clear, practical with some fluidity	Poetic, flowing, musical	Harsh, direct, guttural

Common Uses	Daily communication, trade, diplomacy	Rituals, oaths, philosophical discussions	Day-to-day survival, oral traditions
Cultural Themes	Clarity, practicality, balance	Mysticism, nature connection, survival	Resilience, resourcefulness, practicality
Typical Phrases	Practical and metaphorical	Poetic and spiritually infused	Minimalist and action-focused
Language Quality	Straightforward and efficient	Mystical and lyrical	Tough and direct

Arvan: The Language of the North

Overview: Arvan is primarily spoken in the northern and mountainous regions of Ohnoshia. The language is poetic and mystically infused, with phrases that emphasize the harsh but awe-inspiring landscapes of the cold north, as well as the people's deep connection to nature and cosmic forces.

Regions/Nations:

- Nivveil: The frozen kingdom of the north, where adaptation to harsh climates has shaped both the people and their language.
- Valkeldor: A fortress-nation known for its warrior culture. While Celan is used for practical matters, Arvan is often spoken during rituals, oaths, and in moments of deep reflection.

Key Features:

- Flowing Sounds: Arvan has longer, softer vowels and a musical quality to its structure.
- Themes: The language invokes nature, balance, and survival, often focusing on the challenges of living in the cold, mountainous regions.

Common Phrases in Arvan:

- “Dral shal thaar.”
 - Translation: "The stars guide the heart."
 - Usage: Often said as a prayer or blessing before journeys, invoking cosmic guidance.
- “Thal morl ser, thal dral var.”

- Translation: "Balance the mountain, balance the sky."
- Usage: Reflects the need for equilibrium between the physical world (the mountain) and the spiritual or mystical world (the sky).
- "Kal thar, morl lorin ser."
 - Translation: "Strength of heart, the mountain guides us."
 - Usage: A warrior's phrase, spoken to inspire courage and strength, often before battle or during intense moments of decision.

Trerran: The Language of the South

Overview: Trerran is spoken in the southern desert regions of Ohnosha. It is a harsh, direct language with clipped consonants and a focus on practicality and survival in the barren, often unforgiving landscapes. The people of these regions place great value on resilience and resourcefulness, and their language reflects this.

Regions/Nations:

- Zarithan: The nomadic tribes of the desert, who survive by constantly moving and adapting to the harsh environment. Trerran is used in both day-to-day survival and in the rich oral traditions of their people.
- Jasara: A desert oasis society that has arisen after the seas receded. Though influenced by Celan, Trerran is still used by many as a connection to their nomadic ancestors.

Key Features:

- Hard Consonants: Trerran is characterized by sharp, guttural sounds, reflecting the toughness required to survive in the desert.
- Practical and Minimalist: Focused on action and directness, with less metaphor than Arvan.

Common Phrases in Trerran:

- "Vrak dren ka."
 - Translation: "The water is gone."
 - Usage: A simple but powerful phrase, often used to indicate trouble or scarcity in the harsh desert environment.
- "Kal var morl."
 - Translation: "Strength comes from stone."
 - Usage: A reminder of the need to be strong and unyielding, like the stone that surrounds them.
- "Shal nor kal ser."
 - Translation: "Light gives strength to the people."
 - Usage: Expresses the idea that the sun, though harsh, also provides the energy necessary to survive.

Cultural Customization by Nation

1. Pelagae: Incorporate water themes in rituals, such as Drenvokesh ("Water Unity Ceremony").
2. Mechuma: Use celestial elements in ceremonies, like Dralshaneth ("Heaven's Blessing").
3. Zarithan: Emphasize endurance with terms like Krezthar ("Heart of Fire Ritual").
4. Verdalris: Celebrate nature's cycles with Terrashalor ("Earth's Light Ceremony").

1. Pelagae (Oceanic Nations)

Themes: Water, flow, unity, and life-giving force.

Key Ceremonial Terms:

1. Drenvokesh: Water Unity Ceremony
 - Derived From: Dren (water) + vok (bond) + esh (connection).
 - Meaning: A ritual where families or clans pledge unity near water.
 - Example Phrase: "Drenvokesh kal dren nor Belvok."
"The water unity strengthens the family by the water."
 2. Eshlorien: Wave Naming Ritual
 - Derived From: Esh (sky/air) + lorin (guide).
 - Meaning: A naming ceremony for children born by the sea.
 - Example Phrase: "Eshlorien nor dren an Zhaelor."
"The wave naming flows by the water in spring."

2. Verdalis (Forested and Nature-Rooted Nations)

Themes: Nature, growth, and ancestral reverence.

Key Ceremonial Terms:

1. Terrashaneth: Earth Blessing Ceremony
 - Derived From: Terra (earth) + shan (pass) + eth (sacred).
 - Meaning: A ritual to bless the land and seek the ancestors' guidance.
 - Example Phrase: "Terrashaneth lian nor Tharvok."
"The Earth blessing speaks to the family."
 2. Velpralim: Wisdom Transfer Ritual
 - Derived From: Vel (wisdom) + pral (intricacy) + im (essence).
 - Meaning: A ceremony for elders to pass their knowledge to younger generations.
 - Example Phrase: "Velpralim shan dren an Zhirelorim."
"The wisdom transfer passes to the coming-of-age ritual."

1. Kreztharim: Fire Heart Ritual

- Derived From: Krez (fire) + thar (heart) + im (essence).
- Meaning: A ceremony to honor strength and resilience within families.
- Example Phrase: "Kreztharim kal nor dren."
"The fire heart strengthens by the water."

2. Zhivokesh: Bond Renewal Ceremony

- Derived From: Zhi (lineage) + vok (unity) + esh (connection).
 - Meaning: A ritual where family bonds are reaffirmed under the desert stars.
 - Example Phrase: "Zhivokesh shalil thal morl."
"The bond renewal flows under the mountain."

4. Mechuma (Technological and Celestial Nation)

Themes: Celestial, innovation, and future-focused unity.

Key Ceremonial Terms:

1. Dralshaneth: Heaven's Blessing

- Derived From: Dral (heavens) + shan (pass) + eth (sacred).
- Meaning: A celestial ceremony to seek guidance and protection for the family.
- Example Phrase: "Dralshaneth kal dren an Belvok."
"The heaven's blessing strengthens the family."

2. Zhirelorim: Cosmic Coming-of-Age

- Derived From: Zhir (lineage) + elor (growth) + im (essence).
 - Meaning: A coming-of-age ritual tied to celestial alignments.
 - Example Phrase: "Zhirelorim nor dren an Dralorim."
"The coming-of-age flows with the celestial storm."

5. Valkeldor (Mountainous Fortress Nations)

Themes: Resilience, protection, and unity.

Key Ceremonial Terms:

1. Morlatharim: Stone Heart Ceremony

- Derived From: Morl (mountain) + thar (heart) + im (essence).
- Meaning: A ritual to honor resilience and fortify family bonds.

- Example Phrase: "Morlatharim shalil nor dren."
"The stone heart flows by the water."

2. Velmarineth: Elder's Blessing

- Derived From: Vel (wisdom) + marin (branch) + eth (sacred).
 - Meaning: A ceremony where elders bless the younger branches of the family tree.
 - Example Phrase: "Velmarineth lian nor Felka."
"The elder's blessing speaks to the child."

6. Nivveil (Icy Northern Kingdoms)

Themes: Cold, preservation, and ancestral ties.

Key Ceremonial Terms:

1. Velthaelvok: Winter Unity Ceremony

- Derived From: Vel (cold) + thael (motion) + vok (unity).
- Meaning: A ritual for families to renew bonds during the harsh winter season.
- Example Phrase: "Velthaelvok ser dren thal Velthaen."
"The winter unity flows with the cold season."

2. Eshvelaneth: Snowstorm Guidance Ritual

- Derived From: Esh (sky) + vel (cold) + aneth (strike).
- Meaning: A ritual to seek guidance during challenging times.
- Example Phrase: "Eshvelaneth shan dren an Tharvok."
"The snowstorm guidance passes to the family."

7. Jasara (Desert Oasis Nation)

Themes: Water as a precious resource, balance, mysticism, and the interplay of light and shadow.

Key Ceremonial Terms

1. Drenkorath: Oasis Blessing Ceremony

- Derived From: Dren (water) + kor (source/strength) + ath (balance).
- Meaning: A ritual where families gather to honor and protect their oasis or water source.
- Example Phrase: "Drenkorath lian nor dren."
"The oasis blessing speaks to the water."

2. Shalorveth: Shadowlight Ritual

- Derived From: Shal (light) + or (essence) + veth (shadow).
- Meaning: A mystical ceremony that represents the balance between opposites (light and shadow, joy and sorrow) within family ties.

- Example Phrase: "Shalorveth kal dren thal Tharvok."
"The shadowlight ritual strengthens with the family under balance."
 - 3. Velterim: Desert Passage Ceremony
 - Derived From: Vel (stillness/cold) + ter (journey) + im (essence).

Updated Regional Summary Table

Region	Ceremonial Terms	Meaning
--------	------------------	---------

Pelagae	Drenvokesh, Eshlorien	Water Unity, Wave Naming
Verdalris	Terrashaneth, Velpralim	Earth Blessing, Wisdom Transfer
Zarithan	Kreztharim, Zhivokesh	Fire Heart, Bond Renewal
Mechuma	Dralshaneth, Zhirelorim	Heaven’s Blessing, Cosmic Coming-of-Age
Valkeldor	Morlatharim, Velmarineth	Stone Heart, Elder’s Blessing
Nivveil	Velthaelvok, Eshvelaneth	Winter Unity, Snowstorm Guidance
Jasara	Drenkorath, Shalorveth, Velterim	Oasis Blessing, Shadowlight, Desert Passage
Marakor	Krezmorath, Tharvelim, Kalorinath	Fire Bond, Mountain Ancestor, Fortress Bonding

Slurs for each of the eight nations.

Below is a summary chart that lists the proposed slurs along with their meanings and a brief note on context. These words are designed to reflect interregional tensions and stereotypes within your world, while remaining consistent with Celan’s thematic style.

Nation Proposed Slur Meaning/Implication

Nation	Proposed Slur	Meaning/Implication	Context Note
--------	---------------	---------------------	--------------

Mechuma	Var-kareth	"Metal-mover" or "gear-grinder"; implies reliance on machines and lack of natural warmth.	Used to insult Mechuma's heavy technological dependence over natural wisdom.
Pelagae	Dren-kaesh	"Water-waster"; suggests carelessness or indulgence in water abundance.	Pelagaeans seen as wasteful by desert and mountain nations.
Verdalris	Thar-fah	"Weak-hearted" or "soft-rooted"; dismisses their gentle, nature-centric approach as sentimental.	Verdalrisians are mocked for being overly emotional or soft.
Zarithan	Krez-verin	"Fire-nothing" or "ash-breather"; criticizes their environment and resource scarcity.	Zarithans insulted for living in barren deserts with little resources.
Nivveil	Esh-reth	"Sky-confused"; implies a dreamy or detached nature under the icy skies.	Nivveil perceived as distant or impractical under harsh skies.
Marakor	Rathor-kinash	"Ancient-prattler"; suggests being stuck in outdated traditions and unyielding.	Marakorians mocked for clinging to their ancient ways.
Jasara	Vethor-drenka	"Shadow-water leech"; insults their reliance on hidden water resources or mysterious magic.	Jasarans accused of parasitically surviving through secretive means.
Valkeldor	Morl-karash	"Stone-brained"; criticizes rigidity and stubbornness, reflective of their mountain nature.	Valkeldorians labeled as hard-headed and unchangeable like stone.

Sample Phrases and Sentences

Sample Phrases Using Celan Vocabulary

- “Vaar I thal nor.”
 - Meaning: “I seek peace in the balance of time.”
- “Shal lorin ser.”
 - Meaning: “Let the light guide you.”
- “Dral aen lian.”
 - Meaning: “The stars speak truth.”

Sample Sentences Using New Vocabulary

- Tha-var ser nor dren.
 - Translation: "The friend went to the water."
- Nor-var I thal Terra.
 - Translation: "I will go in the balance of the Earth."
- Va var kalor thal!
 - Translation: "Go in strength and balance!" (command)
- Rath Nor-var ser, Nor-var kal Terra.
 - Translation: "If the friend will go, I will find strength in the Earth."

Sample Phrases from Specific Nations

Verdalris (Lorash Terra-Thar)

- "Var serilín dren Theren."
 - Meaning: "Go, sister, to the village water."
- "Liorin aelin var tera emil."
 - Meaning: "The teacher leads the youth home for food."
- "Thar Terra var shal nor."
 - Meaning: "The heart of the Earth goes with light in time."
- "Va dren emil I ser."
 - Meaning: "Take water and food to the friend."
- "Lian shal Terra, var aen."
 - Meaning: "Speak truth in the Earth's light, go forth."

Mechuma (Varthas Shal-Kaleth)

- "Ra var shenakar evan?"
 - Meaning: "Where is the coinage in the market?"
- "Varadan nor var vanesh ser."
 - Meaning: "The merchant will trade with you."
- "Va kar im dren, vanesh ka!"
 - Meaning: "Use the device with water, do not hesitate to trade!"
- "Shena ser emil teremil."
 - Meaning: "Bring coins for the meal at home."
- "Nor-var I kareth var dreshal."
 - Meaning: "I will go use the tool and the crystal device."

Pelagae (Drenor Thal)

- "Var dren shal ser aen."
 - Meaning: "Go to the water's light and speak."
- "Ka ver emil dren nor?"
 - Meaning: "Is there no food by the water now?"

- “Teremil dren thal nor.”
 - Meaning: “A balanced meal at the water in time.”
- “Serilin var varshel nor dren.”
 - Meaning: “Sister, walk the road to the water.”
- “Aelin liorin var emil eshvan.”
 - Meaning: “The youth follows the teacher to the shop for food.”

Zarithan (Krez Terra-Vethor)

- “Va var dren ver?”
 - Meaning: “Go find water or not?”
- “Emil ka shena, var Eshvan nor.”
 - Meaning: “No food coins? I will go to the shop soon.”
- “Ser var tera dren vanesh.”
 - Meaning: “A friend goes home after trading water.”
- “Ka var dren, ka emil.”
 - Meaning: “No water, no food.”
- “Varadan nor-var ser shenakar.”
 - Meaning: “The merchant will come to you with coinage.”

Nivveil (Eshor Thalor)

- “Liorin noraen var dren kal.”
 - Meaning: “The elders guide us to water with strength.”
- “Thal Terra ser shal nor.”
 - Meaning: “Balance the Earth with light in time.”
- “Aelin var tera emil ser lian.”
 - Meaning: “The youth go home to meals, guided by truth.”
- “Lumor var ser dren.”
 - Meaning: “Carry the talisman to the water.”
- “Nor var I kareth teremil.”
 - Meaning: “I will use a tool for the home’s meal.”

Marakor (Kaleth Rathor)

- “Va kareth kal dren.”
 - Meaning: “Use the tool’s strength with the water.”
- “Serilin var emil tera, shal nor.”
 - Meaning: “The sister brings food home, guided by light in time.”
- “Nor-var I vanesh shenakar evan.”
 - Meaning: “I will go trade coinage in the market.”
- “Dreshal var im.”
 - Meaning: “Use the crystal device efficiently.”
- “Theren var tera Kaleth Rathor.”
 - Meaning: “The village stands at the ancient fortress-home.”

Jasara (Dren Vethor-Shalor)

- “Ra var evan emil dren?”
 - Meaning: “Where is the market for food near water?”
- “Vanesh ser varadan shenakar.”
 - Meaning: “Trade with the merchant’s coinage.”
- “Thalesh var dren shal.”
 - Meaning: “Perform the ritual at the water’s light.”
- “Emil teremil ka var?”
 - Meaning: “Is the meal at home not ready?”
- “Lian dren nor ra aen?”
 - Meaning: “Does truth flow like water in time, speak?”

Valkeldor (Morl-Kaleth Thar)

- “Va dren shal morl.”
 - Meaning: “Go to the water’s light in the mountains.”
- “Kal thar l tera.”
 - Meaning: “My heart is strong at home.”

- “Va var Theren shena.”
 - Meaning: “Go to the village with your coin.”
- “Morl dren nor var liorin.”
 - Meaning: “The mountain water flows with the elder’s guidance.”

Numbering System and Basic Math in Celan

The Celan language features a logical and harmonious numeric system that allows for both simple counting and complex mathematical expressions. This guide outlines the numbering system and introduces basic arithmetic concepts such as addition and subtraction.

Numbering System

Base Numbers (1–10):

1. Verin – Zero
2. Unar – One
3. Del – Two
4. Tren – Three
5. Quen – Four
6. Peth – Five
7. Senar – Six
8. Sethe – Seven
9. Oven – Eight

10. Nevar – Nine

11. Tenar – Ten

Tens (Multiples of 10):

Numbers beyond ten use the prefix "Ten-" combined with the base numbers:

- 20 = Ten-del (Two tens)
- 30 = Ten-tren (Three tens)
- 40 = Ten-quen (Four tens)

Additive Construction for Mixed Numbers:

Mixed numbers are constructed by combining tens and units. For example:

- 11 = Tenar unar (10 + 1)
- 25 = Ten-del peth (20 + 5)
- 46 = Ten-quen senar (40 + 6)

Hundreds (Hek-):

Hundreds are expressed with the prefix "Hek-":

- 100 = Hek-unar (One hundred)
- 400 = Hek-quen (Four hundred)
- 842 = Hek-oven Ten-quen del (800 + 40 + 2)

Thousands (Mel-):

Thousands are expressed with the prefix "Mel-":

- 1,000 = Mel-unar (One thousand)
- 4,000 = Mel-quen (Four thousand)
- 4,768 = Mel-quen Hek-sethe Ten-oven sethe (4,000 + 700 + 60 + 8)

Tens of Thousands (Fen-):

Tens of thousands use the prefix "Fen-":

- 10,000 = Fen-unar (Ten thousand)
- 50,000 = Fen-peth (Fifty thousand)

Hundreds of Thousands (Hek-Mel-):

For numbers in the hundreds of thousands, "Hek-" combines with "Mel-":

- 100,000 = Hek-Mel-unar (One hundred thousand)

- 400,000 = Hek-Mel-quen (Four hundred thousand)

Basic Math

Addition:

In Celan, addition is expressed through the additive construction of numbers:

- "Tenar unar" = 11 (10 + 1)
- "Hek-quen Ten-peth" = 450 (400 + 50)
- "Mel-quen Hek-sethe Ten-oven sethe" = 4,768 (4,000 + 700 + 60 + 8)

Subtraction (Ven-):

Subtraction is indicated with the prefix "Ven-", meaning "minus" or "subtract."

Expression Form:

- "X Ven Y" = X minus Y
 - Example: "Hek-quen Ven Hek-del" = 400 - 200 = 200
 - Example: "Ten-peth Ven tren" = 15 - 3 = 12

In Sentences:

- "Ten-peth Ven tren dren nor shal." – "Fifteen minus three waters under the light."
 - "Mel-quen Ven Hek-peth" = 4,000 - 500 = 3,500

Summary:

Celan's numeric system is intuitive and poetic, built on prefixes like Ten- (tens), Hek- (hundreds), Mel- (thousands), and Fen- (tens of thousands). Arithmetic operations such as addition and subtraction are expressed through additive constructions and the prefix Ven-, ensuring clarity and harmony in mathematical communication.

This structure not only supports practical counting but also reflects the cultural values of precision and balance inherent in Celan.

Conclusion

Mastering Celan

To master Celan, learners must engage with both its practical grammatical structure and its deep, symbolic ties to Ohnosha's natural and mystical elements. This guide provides a comprehensive framework covering phonetics, grammar, vocabulary, and cultural usage. By following these principles, you can effectively communicate in Celan, whether in casual conversations, formal discourse, or scholarly endeavors.

Next Steps

- Practice: Use sample sentences and phrases to build fluency.
- Expand Vocabulary: Refer to the Celan Word List and appendices to learn more words.
- Engage with Culture: Understand how Celan is used across Ohnosha's nations to appreciate its contextual nuances.

Embark on your journey to learn Celan and unlock the ancient wisdom and harmonious balance that this language embodies.
